 1. Student leadership parking, they are working on it
 2. Spring event status
 - a. Dean Henry was pleased with the pumpkin event even though it was small everyone followed rules
 - b. Barristers Ball as a large entire law school event is not going to be possible. Masks and enforcing compliance would be impossible. They suggested outside tent event and having more space to spread out.
 - i. LSU policy for events: you still can't have any event larger than 100 people in person and they don't expect that to change. So, if we can figure out a way to be 100 people or less, we can do it. We can also do food/drinks if we stay under 100 people.
 - ii. Ideas: premade box food, split up into class-based affairs
 - iii. Focus on providing opportunities for people to meet up with their classmates, get out of the house
 3. Graduation
 - a. Definitely will be in person somehow, not virtual. They will likely meet in December with the President and figure out the options and each college might get to vote on the options. One of them would be PMAC and spaced out.
 - b. Michael: They understand now what we believe to be unacceptable and they are going to do their best to work with us.
 4. Confusion on Exams
 - a. Between faculty and admin, and admin and students about who is communicating what. 1Ls are most concerned since it is their first go, Pat will send out a link.
 - i. Date listed or self-scheduled, also timing info needed
 - ii. Printing exams: occurs within time frame, maybe need to address this since it is possible that not all students will have access to printers

1. People who don't need to print or who have easy access to printers will always have advantage over others.
 - iii. Think entire campus is closing after Thanksgiving, so access to library is a definitive no.
